SLEMP WILL GET MONEY

Congressman Will be Reimbursed for Amount Expended in Mandamus Proceedings.

BUST OF ZACHARY TAYLOR

A. C. Braxton Mentioned as Delegate-at-Large to National Convention.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., April: 20.-The Committee on Claims has reported the resolutions introduced some clays ago providing for the payment of 51,500 to Representative Slemp to reimourse him for the money expended in securing from the Supreme Court of Wirginia a mandamus to compel the officers of election in Russell, Washington and Scott counties to count the vote cast at certain precincts at the election in the fall of 1962. Mr. Slemp employed Democratic lawyers to take the matter to the Supreme Court and succeeded in obtaining an order from the court compelling the officers of election to count the veturns, which gave him a majority over Representative Rhea. Mr. Slemp says there is little doubt he will secure the money, and says he has vouchers to show that the cost of obtaining the order was the sum he asks.

The sundry civil bill, which is about to pass the Senale, contains a provision for the purchase from a Virginian of a bust of Zachary Taylor. The cost is fixed at $2,000. Senator Daniel said to-day he thought the House would agree to the Rem. burse him for the money expended in thought the House would agree to the item.

DELEGATES AT LARGE.

The Virginia members of Congress have been discussing the probable selections the State convention will make in choosing delegates at large to the national convention. It is presumed that the two senators will be chosen, and as Representative Jones has been one of the four delegates at large from Virginia in the course of the past eight years, it is thought likely that he will be a third time chosen, it is not known that Governor Montague desires to go to the convention as a delegate. Should he care to do so it is very probable that he will be sent. Mr. Flood wants the convention to send A.: A. C. Braxton as one of the delegates at large. If Mr. Braxton wishes to go to the convention he could probably be sent as a delegate from the Tenth District

FLOOD AND OPIE.

Mr. Flood said to-day that he was not at all unersy as to the outcome of the fight which Captain J. N. Opic, of Augusta, is making for the nomination. All the papers outside of Staunton, Mr. Flood said, have declared for him, with two exceptions, and the Staunton papers so far as known, have not declared for Mr. Opic. Mr. Flood does not think that the friends of Mr. Opic will be able to carry the counties west of the Blue Ridge, as they claimed.

GAINES On "THE SOUTH.

The Hon, John Wesley Gaines has been into Pennsylvania, and while there he made a speech on "The South" that created a great deal of comment and clicited no little praise from the Tennesseean from the business men of Eric. On coming into the House of Representatives Tuesday, the Hou. Joseph C. Sibley met him with "Hello, John Wesley, what have you been up to in my country? I have had letters from two of the most prominent clitzers were in Washington this morning, and they all tell ne you made the best speech, that Erie ever heard. I don't much like that, for

Washington this morning, and they all te me you made the best speech that Erie ever heard. I don't much like that, for I have made speeches in that district myself."

Mr. Gaines went to Erie as the guest of the Chamber of Commerce to deliver an address on "The South" at the third annual, banquet of the Erie commercias organization. That he made a hit is putting it mildly, according to the testimous of the Erie newspapers and Mr. f the Chambe, an address on 'The Boun...

samual banquet of the Eric commony of the Eric newspapers and Mr.
sibley's friends, it was the first time a southerner had ever talked the South to Eric heavers, and they were both surprised and delighted. The Evening Herald, in an editorial commenting on the address, says:

"The community is to be congratulated on the pappearance at the Chamber of the pappearance at the Chamber of a banquet last evening of a statesman.

"The community is to be congratulated on the pappearance at the Chamber of a banquet last evening of a statesman.

"The community is to be congratulated on the pappearance at the Chamber of Bank's (second floor). We have also a large demand for country girls.

"TED, A LADY WHO IS IN TOUCH one for the papers of the papearance and point required and required and required."

the address, says:

"The community is to be congratulated on the pappearance at the Chamber of Commerce banquet last evening of a typical southern statesman.

For the first time the people of Erie bave had presented to them the point of view from which the southern people regard the great problem which they slone can and must solve, and Congressman Gaines's appeal for sympathetic consideration from his northern brothern made a profound impression on his hearers.

"We may not be prepared to accept his position in all things as our own, but his presence here has insured a but his presence here has insured a better and kindlier feeling between those who heard him and the section of our common country he so ably represents. "Ills magnificent tribute to Lincoln, and his elequent words of patriotism secured for him a demonstration of approval at the conclusion of his speech that has seldom been equalled in Egic."

CONFIRMED BY SENATE.

B. A. Davis to be Postmaster at Rocky Mount, Va. Rocky Mount, Va.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch)
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—The Senate to-day confirmed the appointment of Boverly A. Davis to be postmaster at Rocky Mount, Franklin county, Va. The appointment was made several weeks ago and was held up by Senator Martin at the request of certain citizens of Franklin.
The senator did not hear anything further from those who evidently opposed the appointment, or, at least, nothing was adduced to justify the Senate refusing to confirm the nomination.

Mr. Dayls was a member of the Virginta Constitutional Convention, and ran against Mr. Swanson for Congress in 1969.
He trains with the Slemp or anti-officeholding faction of the party.

The illy sticks her head above the snow-drift and the frost;
The man who goes out in the woods comes back to find he's lost;
Because he's after illacs and buttercups and things.
That come along with springtime; that summer always brings.
Where are the gentle zephyrs and the dainty, babbling brooks?
Are they but hings of fancy, that we read about in books?
Won't some one please come forward and tell us where we're at,
And let us know when we can wear our shirt waist and straw hat?

We feel it our duty to warn the dear

Especially that part of the dear public that has business at the Bijou Theatre with Manager McKee about free passes and things.

Everybody connected with the theatre,

Everybody connected with the theatre, from Bobby, the office boy, to Ben Lowery, the stage manager, loves to smoke, and the whole outfit is in league against the general public. Morgan Mills, Greanor Neale, George Edes and us are late examples of the atrectites practiced in the private office of Mr. McKee.

has been coughed up.
After the robbery has been committed an explanation comes:
"It's a rule of the house," says McKes.
"that nobody may smoke here—not even his Royal Job Lots, Myself. The penalty is a nickel, and all the cigars that may be found on a man's person. The cigars I smoke myself after I leave here. The nickels go into the sock for the benefit of the chewing gum fund.
"That's all; good-bye; I'm very busy to-day."

to-day."

With such a bunch of good people up for Council, how can they afford to turn down any of them, and how can they elect them all? \
They can't be pushed over into Monroe
Ward, for that ward, too, has a crowd of good ones out.

There's a dilemma for you, but the fellow who gets left in the race need not feel bad about it, for it's such a fine bunch that those who get left may feel that they are just as good as their more lucky fellow-citizens.
